

SITDOWN SUSPENSION TO BE ENDED TODAY

FAYETTEVILLE, Feb. 16 — A seven-day suspension of "sit-down" demonstrations here against segregated lunch counters by Fayetteville State Teachers College students is scheduled to end Wednesday.

The students had indicated they would name a negotiating committee to meet with local merchants.

Today no negotiating committee had been announced and there was no indication that local merchants plan to meet with the demonstrators.