

Trial Of Students Slated Tomorrow

Trial of 43 Negro and two white college students charged with trespassing April 21 at the S. H. Kress & Co. downtown store will be held tomorrow in Municipal-County Court, court officials said today.

The trial has been continued twice, once at the request of the defense and once at the request of the state.

The students were arrested in connection with protest demonstrations against segregated seating at the store's lunch counter.
