

GREENSBORO

At Your Service

News & Information

Stay Up-to-Date on Storm Recovery Efforts and Needs

The City has created a Web page -- www.greensboro-nc.gov/RecoveryResources -- to keep residents up-to-date on the April tornado clean-up and on-going recovery support efforts throughout Greensboro.

Visit that page often to learn about volunteer needs, repair issues and long-term recovery plans.

Free Summer Teen Program Now Underway

Parks and Recreation and the Greensboro Public Library are back with Summer Night Lights, a series of free activities, classes, programs and special events for teens.

Learn to be a DJ or take awesome photos, practice your b-ball skills or take a cooking class. There are dozens of programs for book lovers, techies, sci-fi fans and every other kind of teen.

Visit www.greensboro-nc.gov/SNL for details and a full schedule of events.

New City Budget Recommended

The City Manager's Office has presented its recommended budget for FY 2018-19 to City Council, who is expected to adopt a budget this month. To see the full recommended budget, visit www.greensboro-nc.gov/RecommendedBudget.

Stay Safe During Summer Travel

Enjoy your summer vacation by traveling safely and making sure your home is protected while you are gone.

Learn tips about safe travel and how to make your home less attractive to thieves while you are gone by visiting www.greensboro-nc.gov/TravelSafety.

These Greensboro Police Web pages and others in its Crime Prevention Tips section - www.greensboro-nc.gov/CrimePreventionTips - offer advice on many aspects of prevention and safety.

City Academy Now Taking Applications

Registration for the City's annual Government Works: A City Academy is now open. One of the nation's first government education

Attend a City Council Meeting

Greensboro City Council meetings are held on the first and third Tuesdays beginning at 5:30 pm in Council Chamber of the Melvin Municipal Office Building, 300 W. Washington St., unless otherwise noted.

Meetings are open to the public and air live on Greensboro Television Network. For the Council's full 2018 meeting schedule, visit www.greensboro-nc.gov/CouncilMeetings.

City Offices/Facilities Closed July 4

City offices and facilities are closed Wednesday, July 4, in observance of Independence Day. Because this holiday falls on a Wednesday this year, which is the day no City trash or recycling collections take place, all City collections will remain on schedule the first week of July.

Downtown Hosts July 4 Events

Downtown Greensboro will be a busy place in celebration of Independence Day. The annual Fun Fourth Festival events, of which the City is a co-sponsor, begin with a Freedom Run at

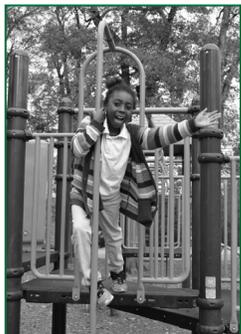

continued on back

continued on back

programs, City Academy demonstrates government through hands-on learning and detailed exercises.

Classes are held weekly from 5:15-9 pm from September through November. To apply, complete an online application form at www.greensboro-nc.gov/CityAcademy or call the City's community relations office at 336-373-2723.

Sign Up for Free Summer Playground Program

Kids 5-15 are invited to join ENERGY at the Park, the supervised summer playground program at seven City parks. The program is free from Mondays to Thursdays, 10 am to 3 pm, from Monday, June 25 to Thursday, August 9.

Register your child on site at Arlington, Douglas, Eastside, Hampton, Hannaford, Heath or Woodmere parks. Learn more at www.greensboro-nc.gov/Energy.

Youth Football & Cheerleading Registration Underway

Parks and Recreation is now registering kids ages 7-12 for fall football and cheerleading.

Cost is $50 per child. The deadline to sign up is Friday, July 20. Visit www.greensboro-nc.gov/Athletics for more details.

Made in GSO Feature

Each month, At Your Service will publish a feature from www.madeingso.com, a joint campaign of Action Greensboro and the City that celebrates local leaders.

When you are done reading a book, you can resell it at a used book store. If you are a college student, you can sell your books back at the end of the semester.

If you are an artist though, there has been no option for you to return unwanted art supplies at the end of a semester or when you are finished with a project.

While attending Appalachian State, Cassandra Liuzzo knew there had to be a way to deal with unwanted art supplies.

So after college, Liuzzo, now 30, spent four years making art and working for her parents' e-commerce company, gaining the tools to open her own small business.

Visit us online at www.greensboro-nc.gov

Call the City's Contact Center at 336-373-CITY (2489)

Follow us on Twitter at www.twitter.com/greensborocity and on Facebook at www.facebook.com/cityofgreensboro

and on YouTube at www.youtube.com/cityofgreensboronc

and on Instagram at @cityofgreensboro

7:30 pm Tuesday, July 3. Also that night is an American Block Party from 7-11 pm.

On Wednesday, July 4, the celebration continues with Fun Fourth Street Festival from 1-8 pm and Patriot Fireworks Concert that night beginning at 9 pm.

For full details, visit www.funfourthfestival.org.

Library Offers a Summer of Activities

Looking for free summer fun for your child? The Greensboro Public Library branches offer festivals, magic shows, movies, musical performances, science adventures, nature trips and more.

Visit www.greensborolibrary.org to check out all the events or visit your nearest branch and pick up an event calendar.

"Parks & Rec Fest" is July 29

Celebrate Greensboro Parks and Recreation at its annual Parks & Rec Fest from 4-8 pm Sunday, July 29, at Gillespie Golf Course, 306 E. Florida St.

This free festival includes games and activities for all ages, food and beverages for purchase, and a MUSEP concert. Questions? Call 336-373-5852.

Library Joins National Teen Library Lock-in Day

Join teens across the country in celebrating National Teen Library Lock-in Day Friday, July 27, at Central Library, 219 N. Church St. Teens ages 12-17 are invited to get 'locked in' from 5-9 pm with friends for food, fun, books, and hands-on activities.